

*The Department of Philosophy Presents A Talk on
Free Speech and Open Inquiry in the University:*

Is the Goal of the University to Pursue Knowledge or Social Justice?

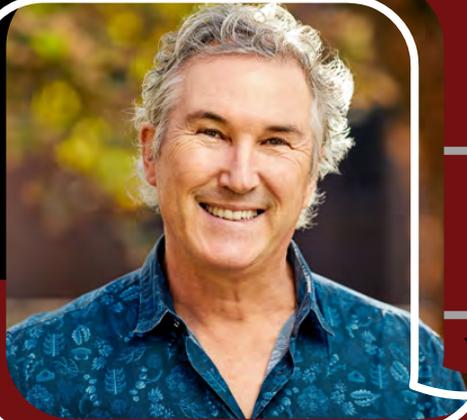

John Tomasi

April 27 | 4pm
Gambrell 152

John Tomasi is the inaugural president of Heterodox Academy (HxA). Before joining HxA he held the position of Romeo Elton 1843 Professor of Natural Theology at Brown University, where he taught and wrote about political theory and public policy and was twice recognized for excellence in undergraduate teaching. At Brown, he founded and directed the Political Theory Project, an independent research center that supports scholarship and encourages political dialogue on campus.

The Department of Philosophy Presents A Talk on
Free Speech and Open Inquiry in the University:

Is the Goal of the University to Pursue Knowledge or Social Justice?

John Tomasi

April 27 | 4pm
Gambrell 152

John Tomasi is the inaugural president of Heterodox Academy (HxA). Before joining HxA he held the position of Romeo Elton 1843 Professor of Natural Theology at Brown University, where he taught and wrote about political theory and public policy and was twice recognized for excellence in undergraduate teaching. At Brown, he founded and directed the Political Theory Project, an independent research center that supports scholarship and encourages political dialogue on campus.

The Department of Philosophy Presents A Talk on
Free Speech and Open Inquiry in the University:

Is the Goal of the University to Pursue Knowledge or Social Justice?

John Tomasi

April 27 | 4pm
Gambrell 152

John Tomasi is the inaugural president of Heterodox Academy (HxA). Before joining HxA he held the position of Romeo Elton 1843 Professor of Natural Theology at Brown University, where he taught and wrote about political theory and public policy and was twice recognized for excellence in undergraduate teaching. At Brown, he founded and directed the Political Theory Project, an independent research center that supports scholarship and encourages political dialogue on campus.